Brightline Coffee Co. Annual Report 2025

A fictional company, made up for the Quill demo.

Letter from the founder

2025 was the year Brightline grew past its home city. Total revenue reached $241,820, with every quarter ahead of the one before it. We opened our Mansoura store in March, moved wholesale customers onto a monthly ordering portal in June, and redesigned the Oat Latte Can in September, after which it became our fastest-selling drink.

Our priorities for 2026 are to open a second Cairo store, bring online orders to half of revenue, and cut delivery times outside Cairo to two days. We will also replace single-use cups in all stores by the end of the second quarter.

Operations

Average delivery time fell from 3.4 days in Q1 to 2.6 days in Q4 after we added a second courier partner in Alexandria. Customer ratings averaged 4.4 out of 5 across all channels. Returns stayed below 2% of orders, most of them damaged grinders in transit, which led us to change packaging suppliers in October.

Risks

Green coffee prices rose 18% during the year and remain our largest cost risk. We hedge about a third of next year's bean purchases with fixed-price contracts. A second risk is concentration: Cairo accounts for the largest share of revenue, so a slowdown there would affect results more than any other region.

Team

We ended the year with 46 employees, up from 31, including 9 baristas hired for the Mansoura store. Staff turnover was 12%, down from 19% in 2024.
